

N.B. Extraneous content removed.

HIMALAYA

“After our 2-day stay in Morgang, we came to Takarjala. In the morning session (dated 19 June), we had a blessed session with the St Peter’s students. Almost all the hostellers attended the meeting including the children. Esther Yeoh conveyed from the book of Job, highlighting the life of Job and the struggles he had to go through before being justified. Many of the students were very much edified by the message, especially when the sisters went to visit the Girls’ Dormitory to fellowship with the sisters. A few sisters opened up their hearts and shared their problems they were facing in their life. They were very much thankful to the sisters for conveying the message and also for visiting them in their dormitory to give them counsel not just for their spiritual journey but also to encourage them to speak up more and think critically on preaching as well as in their education. They felt that they could not be like Job who humbled himself in spite of everything being taken away and even when his wife told him to curse God and die (Job 2:9); instead he worshipped God. The students felt that they were utterly depraved and needed the mercies of God to humble themselves. The teachers then requested the sisters to have a meeting everyday before the students started classes.” Reported by Shelomi Debbarma, Beraiah Lao and Amaziah Debbarma on behalf of Habakkuk Singh, Esther Yeoh, Naomi Chua and Neariah Debbarma, Morgang, Tripura; 18-22 June, Part 3