"Thank God for the labour of love of Paul Mahgit to visit us in Baguio to convey thy message on the Sabbath. Although it has been raining here in Baguio, thank God we were still able to gather ourselves for family worship. The message was from the book of Amos. We were shown that even when the judgments of God were increasing, yet God's people never repented. When God sent His servant, they pushed him away (Amos 7:10-17). Like the people of God in the time of Amos, we also do not appreciate the message of the man of God. Though we do not utter it with our mouth, our silence shows our ungratefulness. The conveyor said that even though the people of God give themselves to our sheller shows our ungraterumess. The conveyor said that even though the people of God give themselves to spiritual activities, they offer sweet incense and they add more to their transgressions because their hearts are in the
